FALSE REPORTS!

Capture of Chihuahua by Rebels Reported False.

The Toughs of New York Welcome a British Sport.

One of the Missing Coughlin Wives is in San Francisco.

BUSINESS GROWING BETTER.

El Paso, Texas, Jan. 19.—Reports sent out regarding the capture of Chihuahua by revolutionists are a tissue of falsehoods. Chihuahua is in no danger nor has ever been. The so-called revolutionists are only bands of marauders in different bands and do not number more than twenty each. The reports are gotten up by parties antagonistic to the Diaz government on this side of the river and circulated to foment revolution in Mexico and leading some ignorant Mexicans to believe a revolution exists, who join the marauders with hope of future benefit and glory. Zayatas, the Mexican consul here denies reports. The superintendent of the Mexican Central also denies reports. The United States consul, Houston, at Juarez denies as false all such reports. All such reports are simply manufactured here and sent out to the detriment of El Paso and northern Mexico.

Welcome a British Sport.

New York, Jan. 19.—Habitués of sporting circles in this city are prepared to give a hearty reception to George W. Moore, better known as Pony Moore, Charlie Mitchell's father-in-law, and who is due this afternoon from London with bills of exchange for a hundred thousand dollars of English money with which to back his son-in-law in the approaching contest. He is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, and they are passengers on the Europa. Several tugs have been chartered and a big contingency will go down the bay to meet the ex-minister as soon as the arrival of the ship of Sandy Hook is announced. They will remain in this city for a couple of days and then leave for Florida, Mrs. Mitchell being very anxious to be near her husband during the few days prior to the fight.

The Moing Witness.

San Francisco, Jan. 19.—Major "Sampson," the missing witness in the case of Dan Coughlin at Chicago, for the murder of Dr. Croton, and who at the trial said he had been offered money by Coughlin to "do up" the doctor, was seen in this city a few days ago and recognized by a man who formerly knew him well by sight in that city. He is said to have displayed a big roll of bills, although for a few months prior to his leaving Chicago he was in bad luck. "Sampson" is an old acquaintance and co-mingler with "shell workers" and others who lay cheap traps for the unwary, but none of this fraternity in San Francisco will admit that they have seen him or know anything of his whereabouts.

Numbering Stamps.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The postoffice department is inclined to regard with favor a suggestion that has been made that postage stamps should be numbered precisely in the same manner as treasury notes and bills issued by the government. Some such means of identification as this has been found necessary owing to the numerous robberies of stamps in bulk from postoffices in different parts of the country, a species of crime which seems of late to be considerably on the increase. A large number of representative business men as well as postoffice inspectors situated in different parts of the country have strongly endorsed the project and urged its immediate consideration.

Michigan Knights of Labor.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 19.—The call for the ninth annual convention of the state assembly of the Knights of Labor to be held at Holland early next month has been issued. It declares that a new era is about to be inaugurated in the organization and that great care should be exercised in the selection of delegates. General Master Workman Sovereign has agreed to attend the convention.

Make National Protest.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 19.—An official address from the executive council of the Knights of Labor makes formal announcement of the injunction issued by Judges Jenkins and Caldwell, of the United States circuit courts of Wisconsin and Minnesota, and served upon General Master Workman Sovereign and the members of the general executive board enjoining the order from participating in any strikes or using any influence in the adjustment of wages or regulation of trades matters upon the Northern Pacific road. It says that Jenkins and Caldwell out-Heroed Herod, that the injunction would put to shame the czar of Russia, that it places the United States government with the army and navy in defense of the Northern Pacific road and against workmen; that it is another blow at civil liberty in this country, and that Chief Justice Fuller by endorsing the injunction has lent his assistance toward rendering powerless the laboring people of this country employed on railroads to even defend themselves against the encroachments of capital by refusing to work. Never before, it says, in the history of this country has such a proceeding taken place, and it will arouse the people to a sense of danger at the hands of the unscrupulous monopolists who run the railroads, and hasten the day when the government will assume their control and management.

Rogers Butter Case.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 19.—The case of the Armour Packing Company of Chicago and Kansas against the Minnesota Dairy Commission is again before the United States court to-day. The Armour seek to make permanent the injunction secured a few weeks ago stopping the commission from making seizures of oleomargarine in original packages, whether pink or yellow. Added interest is given to the case by the war upon oleomargarine that has been initiated in New York, Pennsylvania and other states, as well as by statements of declarations of the anti-oleomargarine conference that assembled in Chicago this week.

Cannot be Restored.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 19.—Habitués of sporting circles in this city are prepared to give a hearty reception to George W. Moore, better known as Pony Moore, Charlie Mitchell's father-in-law, and who is due this afternoon from London with bills of exchange for a hundred thousand dollars of English money with which to back his son-in-law in the approaching contest. He is accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Mitchell, and they are passengers on the Europa. Several tugs have been chartered and a big contingency will go down the bay to meet the ex-minister as soon as the arrival of the ship of Sandy Hook is announced. They will remain in this city for a couple of days and then leave for Florida, Mrs. Mitchell being very anxious to be near her husband during the few days prior to the fight.

The Moing Witness.

Leviell, Mass., Jan. 19.—The state assembly of the knights of labor which has been in session here for several days adjourned to day. Although their public enemies are supposed to know that the records of the officers presented show that the strength of the order in the state has been materially lessened during the past year, and it was decided to place organized in the field and to make a strenuous effort to restore the organization to former strength.

Confederate Reunion.

Baltimore, Md., Jan. 19.—Gen. Bradley T. Johnson will preside this evening over the annual banquet of the Society of Army and Navy of the Confederacy, it will be an unusually brilliant affair. Tickets will be laid for three hundred guests, and a strong vein of patriotism and love of country will run through the speeches.

The Bondholders.

New York, Jan. 19.—The committee of bondholders of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe organized by the election of G. N. Louis Fitt, general chairman and Edward King secretary. It is learned from semi-official sources that the finances of the road are such as to warrant the issuance of collateral trust bonds.

Another Hanging.

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 19.—Wilson Howard was hanged here this morning for the murder of a deaf mute, August, 1889. Last night he made affidavit that he killed John Bailey, for which crime his uncle is serving a life sentence. He protested innocence of the crime for which he was hanged.

Committed Suicide.

Gloucester, Mass., Jan. 19.—Judge Charles Thompson suicided this morning by shooting. He had been ill health. The deceased was a lineal descendant of a Puritan Father. The family refuse to name him.

Will Vote on Monday.

Washington, Jan. 19.—After the house went into committee of the whole on the tariff bill was given at Wilson's request to consider the sugar schedule three hours on Monday and the vote then be taken.

How to Bid.

Washington, Jan. 19.—A circular letter giving information how to make bids on the new bond issue will be issued from the treasury on Monday.

Hanged.

Joliet, Ill., Jan. 19.—Ernest Lacore, the murderer of little Nellie Byron, last August, was hanged this morning.

Committee Meeting.

Washington, Jan. 19.—The meeting of the majority of the ways and means committee is postponed until to-night.

ARIZONA.

News from All Portions of the Neighboring Territory.

Tucson now boasts of 550 school children.

Tempe is shipping barley to Bisbee in cedar lots.

The freight business over the Southern Pacific is light just now.

The pay car will disburse its monthly allowance for Tucson on the 16th.

There are one hundred and seventy inmates in the Yuma penitentiary.

About eighty car loads of cattle were shipped from Flagstaff the past year.

Emma L. Clinton has been appointed post mistress at Reno in Gilia county.

More teams are reported nested on the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix road.

The thermometer registered eighteen degrees below zero at Flagstaff Monday night.

In 1892 the territorial prison cost the taxpayers of the territory no less than $75,000.

The Salvation Army is still popular in Phoenix, and its meetings draw large audiences.

A good deal of chloriding is being done about Washington camp. The camp is prosperous.

An amateur theatrical company is preparing to produce the play "The Count of Monte Cristo."

There is a rumor current that a second building and loan association will be organized in Tucson.

Reports from all the gold producing districts of the territory are growing more encouraging daily.

One thousand carloads of building stone was shipped from Flagstaff the past year.

The Maricopa County Horticultural society held a very interesting meeting at Tempe last Saturday.

A committee of five attorneys has been appointed in Phoenix to adopt a new set of rules to govern the supreme court.

An extensive shipment of cattle will be sent from Flagstaff next week. Several cities are interested in the shipment.

An extensive shipment of cattle will be made from Flagstaff next week. Several parties are interested in the shipping.

Mountain sheep are now being killed in the hills around Phoenix, being driven from the mountains, no doubt, by the extreme cold.

The civil service board will meet on Saturday, February 10th next. All applications for positions must be made by January 22.

The rumor that A. N. Towne is to retire from the management of the Southern Pacific system is denied by that gentleman himself.

Jack Schwartz, who built the nest house at Charleston on the San Pedro river over 15 years ago, is running the "tuck saloon" at Yuma.

Citizens say that it is probably that long in February and March large shipments of cattle will be made to the eastern southern Arizona.

Rivamino on reliable authority, says he will be to have a new set of bonds within the next few months. It will be issued at Flagstaff stone.

The latest class of mining in Arizona is the opening of quarries of lithographic rock. Big depots have been overhauled at Arivaca and in neighboring counties.

While the Southern Pacific company has made a big cut in the rates to the Middlewater fall on all points on the system, the tickets will not permit of lay-overs.

The indigent sick in 1892 cost Mohave county the sum of $352,20. Last year the amount ran up to the total of $50,000. This county has a population of 1,000.

The monthly pay disbursed by the Southern Pacific in Tucson will average $10,000. This includes the crews and section hands between Yuma and El Paso.

The tourist rush to California over the A. T. & S. F. continues unabated. It is necessary for west bound passengers to engage their Pullman berths from one to two weeks in advance.

The Griffin mill at the Mohawk mine will, it is claimed, crush 30 tons of ore a day. Mining men will watch with interest the result of the test run which will be made in a few days.

It is said that about 600 acres of land at the Canons in the Santa Cruz valley are being sown to barley and that the canal now furnishes a supply of water sufficient to irrigate at least 1000 acres of land.

The wood business has been revolutionized in Prescott this winter by the importation of cedar wood from along the line of the S. F. P. & P. railroad, and by the introduction of two steam saws for cutting it.

The material now being used in the construction of the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix railroad is all supplied in Arizona except the steel rails. The delay in getting steel rails on the grounds, owing to the failure of the manufacturers to get them there, is the only reason that the present large force of men now working is not increased. There are 600 men on the pay roll now and at the present rate of construction twenty miles of road will be in operation by April 1st.

Says the Kingman Miner, J. A. Eddy, F. A. Healy and Chas. Price have bought five copper properties on Bill Williams Fork to eastern parties for one year. Five thousand dollars have been deposited in the bank with which to begin development work. The mines show up well in copper on the surface, and if they develop well a smelter will be erected on the ground.

General W. Andrade of San Francisco, and parties representing French and Scotch capitalists have gone to the mouth of the Colorado river, for the purpose of selecting a place where they can locate a colony of French grape-growers and wine makers of a thousand families. The summer Aztec will go down from Yuma to bring them back.

A petition is being circulated among the settlers under the Orange Belt canal, Maricopa county, for the establishment of a post office and the appointment of Mr. Staples as postmaster. The name Morillo is proposed for the postoffice, as will be known on the Meridian line.

The report regarding the rounds of territorial papers, says the Enterprise, that the miners have closed down and all the miners discharged. This is a mistake; not a man has been discharged but one mine, which worked but 12 men, has been closed down.

Through the past eight months of depression the pass city has weathered the storm, though at present the city is experiencing a spell of inactivity that is not apparent to the casual observer.

NOTES TO BE THANKFUL FOR.

With a big smile, employing about 500 men, just outside the limits to which the Mexican Central contributes train loads of ore, often something like one hundred cars per day; five railroads—the Mexican Central, Galveston, Houston & San Antonio (the eastern extension of the Southern Pacific), Santa Fe main line for what is known as twenty miles to the west of the Rio Grande & El Paso, the Southern Pacific and the Texas Pacific; and east and west Forts Bliss with fifty miles to the south of soldiers who frequent the city, and much else yet to be mentioned in separate paragraphs, El Paso has much to be thankful for, and which give to the city an air of bustle at all seasons.

STORAGE RESERVOIRS.

A company with a capital of two million dollars propose to dam the Rio Grande above Rincon, again in the vicinity of Las Cruces and the just above El Paso. Thousands of acres will be thrown open by irrigating ditches tapping these reservoirs.

The report regarding the rounds of territorial papers, says the Enterprise, that the miners have closed down and all the miners discharged. This is a mistake; not a man has been discharged but one mine, which worked but 12 men, has been closed down.

GENERAL BUILDINGS.

The stately custom house at the head of Oregon street, completed within the past eighteen months, stands as a monument to Uncle Sam's liberality in providing a home for his public servants here—the postoffice officials and other federal officers. The court house on east San Antonio street is the second important structure in the city and attracts special attention. Other buildings imposing in appearance, El Pasoans point to with pride.

AMUSEMENTS.

Professional troupes en route to the Pacific coast, or eastward bound, usually make a stand here, but for several months past many have cancelled El Paso dates.

Sunday night was the coldest of the season at Arizone, the mercury going down to 10 degrees above zero, Sunday morning. On water that had stood out of doors over night, ice had formed to a thickness of three-sixteenths of an inch.

At the Gila river reservoir a big force of men and teams are at work. A large number of teams are en route from Phoenix to the dam, to haul lumber from the railroad to the dam. Thirty-five car loads of lumber are now at the railroad.

The Tomes Prospector says that the sale of the Kansas cattle Co., and the Robison cattle Co.'s range together with all of the cattle, was consummated. The purchaser is Matt Ryan, the well-known Nevada cattle magnate.

A petition, numerously signed by the citizens of Hackberry and the Sandy, praying for the establishment of a mail route from Hackberry down to Segundo, the site of the big Sandy, has been sent to Washington.

It is said that the Atlantic & Pacific road will be made the best transcontinental route by the receivers. New steel will be laid, the road bed put in good condition and the best motive power put on.

Globe contests are another class of entertainments which attracts large crowds.

Last night Dave Flaherty, of Portland, Oregon, was knocked out Frank Ellwood, a soldier, in the rounds. The bout was a good one, and it was a clear case that Flaherty could down his man in a square second. The referee gave the contest to Ellwood, deciding that Flaherty had fouled his opponent in the fifth round in sinking Ellwood while the latter was down. Flaherty protested. About $200 in gate receipts were to go to the winner.

The Gun and Wigwam balls offer keno, faro, roulette, and other games. Though it is much quieter during the past
